It Always Seems Impossible Until It's Done (Nelson Mandela)

Everyone knows it is Impossible to do a complete renovation of the clubhouse restaurant in just eleven work days. The first task at hand was to convert eleven work days into twenty work days. Joe Samolis and our crew determined that they could create another nine work days by working weekends, late into the evening and holidays. Impossible. Done.

Joe and our in-house professional staff committed themselves to an extraordinary effort to take on this Impossible task and turn an antiquated dining room into a restaurant that we can all be proud of. Impossible. Done.

Who Are You (THE WHO)

Who made it happen? We used a few outside contractors for some flooring, some plumbing and some electrical work. However, our in-house crew provided the expertise and effort to do the Impossible. Done.

Who, Who, Who, Who (THE WHO, second line) you really have to sing this

Joe Samolis directed the operation and was there on the job including weekends, holidays and every week day hour that he could spare from his other daily tasks. Our crew that achieved the Impossible was Brandon (Project Manager), Sean, Kris, Bill, Jason, AJ, Mohamed and Marco. Jenna has been on site daily preparing for the re-opening. John Bergman and Bill Crofton were also on hand volunteering their time and expertise to help turn the Impossible into reality. Done.

I Really Want to Know (THE WHO, second verse)

I am sure you really want to know, so I will tell you. Here is what they did. They took down walls and dividers, removed old carpeting, took down pillars and created an open and welcoming concept. They removed old wiring and sheetrock and plumbing fixtures.

That was just the demolition.

The kitchen received an aggressive refresh and organization. Seemed Impossible. Done.

Then they went to work to build your new restaurant dining experience. They installed new flooring throughout the dining room, entrance area and stairway to the Pro Shop that matches the flooring in the Pub. Electrical wiring and switches were all replaced. All new sprinkler heads throughout the entire building have been installed. The Dining Room has all new sheet rock hung. New trim work has been completed. Ceilings, walls and trim have all been finished painted. New wall sconces have been added. Six new chandeliers have been hung. New track lighting is installed. Additional finish work has also been completed in the Pub. Obviously Impossible. Done.

What about the bathrooms? They are redesigned and completed with new fixtures, sheetrock, paint and finish trim. Remember when that was Impossible? Done.

We all know we need new furniture. It seems Impossible. I believe that in Farmington Woods it is only Impossible until it is Done. Hang on...

Is That All There is? (Peggy Lee)

I remember this song, but I never liked it. No is the answer, it is not all there is to be done. We have a budget and we will work within the confines of that budget. Our lives are lived in chapters. We are planning and developing our next budget and we will remain cognizant of our adopted Samolis Mantra, Do More and Spend Less. As we move forward, we will keep you informed.

Come On Home (Led Zeplin)

The “Woods” in the clubhouse will be re-opening Wednesday, January 21, 2026, as originally scheduled. It is your place, Come on Home. Hope to see you there on Wednesday. Let’s enjoy the amazing and Impossible work that is Done.

Be Well, Be Happy, Be Healthy
